

INF1030 Assignment Five

Go to the following Website:

<http://www.roguecc.edu/counseling/hollandcodes/about.asp>

Read about the Holland test and the different personalities.

Take the Holland Test.

Consider the results from the test. What kind of a person are you? Using the information from the survey, create a new word processing document which explains the following:

- What are your interests based on the results of your tests?
- What are three careers that would be suitable for you based on your results? Describe each of these careers in your own words.
- Do the results and the suggested careers fit with your actual career plans? Why or why not?
- What did you learn about yourself through doing these surveys?
- Your paper should be a half page in length and answer each of the questions above.
- Leave your document in the default Microsoft word settings (Cambria font, size 12 font point.)
- Make sure that your copy is free of errors!
