

THE NOVA TELEGRAPH

A TREATY BROKEN

Yesterday Xandar, erupted in pandemonium as an attack from Kree radical, Ronan the Accuser was set upon the capital of the Nova Empire. It occurred yesterday, in the early evening, when Ronan's war ship, the Dark Aster, was spotted on Nova Corps radars.

Earlier this morning, at a press conference held in Xandars city halls, leader of the Nova Corps, Irani Rael, released a statement detailing the presumed motives to Ronan's actions and the casualties his attack cause, and Nova Corps action plans for recovery.

It is presumed that Ronan had taken it upon himself to destroy Xandar, following the signing of the peace treaty between the Kree and Nova Empires, ending a thousand year war. There was speculation of civil unrest in Hala, home of the Kree. Ronan also had an alliance with the Sakaarans, who made up most of his combatants.

NEW HEROES EMERGE

In light of yesterday deadly attacks, a new team of unlikely heroes emerged to aid in the battle. They call themselves the Guardians of the Galaxy, and are a team consisting of five ex-intergalactic outlaws, whom since the battle, have vowed to keep their records clean and prevent any other world threatening disasters from happening. In this morning's press conference, as a reward for proving victorious in yesterday's battle, Nova Corps has decided to wipe all their criminal records in Kroywen Quadrant and present them with the Novian Accolade, the highest achievement presented by Nova Corps to any non-officers. And the mayor of Xandar, Zorsan Kelian, also presented the group with the key to the city.

Members of the Guardians of the Galaxy are:

- I. Captain Star Lord – Terran Male, was kidnapped from Terra by Ravagers at a young age. Eventually became the surrogate son to Ravager Captain, Yondu Udonta. After living in space for nearly thirty Terran years, Quill became wrapped up in an intergalactic conspiracy that introduced him to the Guardians of the Galaxy and he has since broke away from the Ravager group to form his own.
- II. Gamora – Zehobereian female, former assassin, and adopted daughter of Thanos, but since joining the Guardians she has freed herself from his influence and has sworn retribution and justice to Thanos, and expressed the deepest regrets to all the harm she has caused, and he made her do.
- III. Drax - The being known as Drax is an enigma, with his true origin unknown. But he expresses avidity in proceeding to their new roles as the Guardians of the Galaxy.
- IV. Rocket Raccoon - Procyon Lotorian male, from a Halfworld planet in the Keystone Quadrant. Is an avid mechanical specialist, and is responsible for constructing a majority of the team's gear.
- v. Groot – Flora Colossus being, close companion to Rocket Raccoon.

TIVAN GROUP IN DOWNFALL

The Tivan group, an intergalactic conglomerate, ran by the notoriously powerful, Taneleer Tivan (also known as, The Collector) is experiencing an economical downfall following an incident, in his museum located in the Knowhere port installation. Tivans museum on Knowhere is one of the largest known collections of interstellar flora, fauna, and artifacts in the entire galaxy. In the events leading up to yesterdays attack on Xandar, a skirmish on Knowhere between Ronans army and the Guardians of the Galaxy has left a large part of Tivans museum in pieces after one of the artifacts brought in by the Guardians had exploded. Anonymous sources have said that a number of Tivans buyers and sellers are uneasy following the incident believing that this was an attack to their confidentiality. Now they are currently ceasing to undergo any enterprising endeavors with the Tivan Group.

A WEAPON OF MASS DESTRUCTION

This object is believed to be one of the six Infinity Stones. The Infinity Stones are six stones of momentous power and significance, and are said to be concentrated singularities of the universe, before it's known creation. These singularities are:

- Space
- Soul
- Reality
- Time
- Power
- Mind

Nova Corps has been close guarded to what information has been released, so far. But that didn't stop a whirlwind of speculation to how all these events are tied. Inside sources tell us that the orb is currently being stored under the safe keeping of Nova Corps.
